DID YOU KNOW THAT...

1. That the Robin is considered the state bird of Virginia?

2. That "Carry Me Back To Old Virginia" has been adopted as our state song?

3. That Virginia is called the "Mother o f Presidents" because eight of them came from Virginia.

4. That it is also called "Mother of States" because its original territory has been broken up into so many states.

5. That a governor of Virginia cannot serve for two consecutive terms.

6. Virginia has a large number of minerals that could be used in case of war.

7. That the flowering dogwood was adopted in 1918 as the floral emblem of our state?

8. That our state capital building was designed by Thomas Jefferson and work on the original building was completed in 1792?

9. That the second oldest college in the United States is in Virginia?

10. That seven Virginians signed the Declaration, of Independence?

11. That the "Virginia Gazette" was the first newspaper published in Virginia, by William Parks, at Williamsburg, August 5, 1736?

12. That the closing chapters of two great wars were written in Virginia? The surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown on October 19, 1781, and the surrender of Lee at Appomattox on April 9, 1865.

Swedish Premier Visits King Gustav

King Gustav of Sweden, right, with his premier, Allan Hansson, discuss the results of the recent Copenhagen conference between Norway, Sweden and Denmark. The foreign ministers of the three countries voiced hopes for a peaceful solution of the Finnish-Russian war and declared their own countries would continue their policy of neutrality in Europe's wars.

Frankie Frisch Returns to Diamond Wars

Frankie Frisch, who has taken over the managerial reins of the Pittsburgh Pirates, is shown taking to pitchers (left to right) Butcher, Bauers and Herrell as they don their uniforms for an early-season workout during the spring training season in San Bernardino, Calif. Frisch was out of baseball last year, when he worked as a baseball broadcaster.

Testing Device for Lights

Night baseball, skating and other athletic pastimes have been made possible by the use of electric light. From the engineer's point of view the illumination problem is not a simple one, and extensive testing and experimenting are required in the laboratory to make sure that the light is adequate and properly distributed for both the athletes and the audience. One of the testing devices is a tunnel 150 feet long and 15 feet in diameter, at one end of which is placed a 1,500-watt lamp as a light source, and at the other a model of the scene to be experimentally illuminated and the measuring instruments. At intervals throughout the length of the tube are curtains with circular openings 10 feet in diameter, which act as baffles to cut off light reflected from the walls of the tunnel, so that only the light it the direct beam is measured.

Proper Varnish Application

Care should be used in preparing and applying varnish. Never store varnish in a room where the temperature is usually low. When you pour it from the can, pour it carefully so that no air bubbles will form. Be sure that there is no dust present on the surface to be varnished and that a minimum of dust is in the room. Use a first-quality flat brush and dip it gently into the varnish so no air bubbles or froth may form. When the brush is not in use, preserve it by soaking in raw oil. Before using, however, work all oil possible from it and then clean it in turpentine and shake dry. When applying the varnish lay it on without brushing it out too much. If two coats are necessary, use a quick-drying, harder type for the first coat than you use for the latter. Two coats of the same type are frequently used, however, with good results.

Committees Work On Plans For "Clean-Up"

A committee from the Appomattox Garden Club was busy this week calling on merchants and business places, asking their participation in the coming town Clean-Up drive, scheduled for the week of April 1-6. The committee carried pledge cards upon which the business men were asked to state just what they intended to do in the way of cleaning up, painting, repairing, beautifying, etc.

Later this month, members of the Garden Club will make a house-to house canvas with these pledge cards and thus seek to reduce clean-up ideas to specific plans.

New Car Tags To Go On Sale Friday, March 15

1940 auto licenses go on sale tomorrow, Friday, March 15. They will be sold by Appomattox by C. S. McDearmon. The Appomattox numbers will begin this year at 328-651. That first Appomattox number has already been applied for by Raymond Jamerson. The plates this year will be white, with black figures. Appomattox county usually requires slightly over 1600 tags.

The town of Appomattox auto licenses will go on sale at the same time. Town tags are sold by J. W. Cawthorn.

Motorists have 30 day in which to procure the new license plates.

Eastern Star to Install Officers

The Appomattox Chapter of the Eastern Star will meet Monday evening at which time the following officers will be installed by Mrs. Kate Wright, Worthy Matron:

R. G. Anderson, Worthy Patron; Mrs. L. H. Ould, Secretary; Mrs. Cappell, Conductress; Mrs. C. G. O'Brien, Associate Conductress.

To Have Soft Ball Team

This year Appomattox high school will have its first girls soft-ball team. Alice Garrett, manager, has already booked several games with other schools. In order to procure needed equipment for the team, a "boys beauty contest" will be held at the school auditorium at 10:40 A.M. next Tuesday, March 19. The public is being asked to buy tickets for this event to help the team. Miss Christian is sponsor for the team.

Treatment For Horses & Mules

Dr. Leroy Bowen, vetrinarian, will be in the county again next week to treat horses, colts and mules for bots. County agent R.B. Hudgins has announced the following schedule: Wednesday, March 20, from 9 to 11:45 at Jesse Turnes farm, from 12 noon to 1:30 back of the county agents office at Appomattox. Thursday, March 21, from 9 to 12 at barn of John E. Burnette.

Farmers are invited to bring their team to one of these places. Those to be treated should not be fed the night before or breakfast on the day of treatment. Some water may be given.

County SCA Meeting

By Walton Jamerson

The county S.C.A. held a meeting March 6. The address of welcome was given by Nancy Cheatham. An interesting discussion was held and it was decided that the objectives made would be checked at the end of the year. Miss Koontz, Mrs. Larkin and Miss Savedge were guests. The next meeting will be held on May 17.

May Change Camp

It is understood that the new CCC appropriation bill now before Congress would call for the camp here at Appomattox to be operated upon a seasonal basis after June 30

'A Very Good Boy'

First place winner in a city-wide poll of New York teachers was this picture titled "A Very Good Boy." Teachers acclaimed it as the best photograph ever to appear in the annual pictorial report of the superintendent of schools.

MEMORIAL CHURCH NOTES

Special music by the choir and an appropriate message by the pastor, will mark Palm Sunday service at Memorial Methodist church next Sunday morning at 11 A.M.

A special Worship and Communion Service will be conducted at this church next Thursday, March 21, in observance of Holy Week. This is in keeping with the custom of commemorating the Last Supper of Jesus and his disciples on the Thursday before Easter Sunday. The service will be in the church auditorium at 7:45 P.M., and will take the place of the usual mid-week service. All members and friends of the church are invited.

The Woman's Missionary Society is meeting this afternoon at the church for its regular monthly meeting. Mrs. H. M. Burge is the president.

Twenty-five persons were in attendance at the Epworth League meeting last Sunday night. The program topic was, "Good Health and Good People," with Edwin McClintic as leader.

To Preach At Liberty Sunday

Dr. John J. Wicker, of Fork Union, will preach at Liberty Baptist church Sunday morning.

Methodist Circles

Circles of the Womans' Missionary Society of the Memorial Methodist church held their March meetings as follows:

Circle No. 1 met with Mrs. C. T. Moses.

Circle No. 2 met with Mrs. R. W. Smith.

Circle No. 3 met with Mrs. R. W. Jamerson.

Bible study based on Paul's letter to the Phillipians, made up the programs for Circles 2 and 3, and was taught by Mesdames C. W. Smith and L. C. Shearer, respectively.

WORK ON ROUTE 460

Work has begun on improvements on a stretch of about six miles long on Route 460 between Pamplin and Prospect. The state highway department now has about 70 projects under way over the state.

EXTRA LEAGUE MEETING

The Vera community league met last night, with approximately 100 present. Tommy Harvey presided. Calvin H. Johnson, editor of the Times Virginian, spoke on the subject, "Inside Europe." Later a movie on soil was shown.

'Watching' the Wind Blow

To see the wind, hold any flat, smooth surface having a straight edge (a straight-backed hacksaw is excellent for this purpose) against the wind, but inclined to the vertical, with the straight edge uppermost and leaning with the wind, says the United States weather bureau. Then sight along this straight upper edge toward a white object. If the wind is moderately strong one will see it pouring over the straight edge like water over a dam. This phenomenon is owing to irregular densities in the air which in turn cause irregular refractions of the transmitted light.

Schedule Farm Meetings On Triple A

County agent R. B. Hudgins announced today that a series of meetings had been scheduled at various localities in Appomattox county for the purpose of making a detailed explanation of the 1940 conservation program and other matters of interest to farmers.

R. G. Anderso, will attend most of these meetings to talk on analysis and grades of fertilizer for tobacco and fertilizers farmers should use in their rotations.

The schedule of meetings:

Appomattox court house, Friday, March 15, at 7:30 P.M.

Dates for Farmers To Bear in Mind

March 30, 31 and April 15 of this year are three dates that farmers interested in the Agricultural Conservation program should keep in mind, says R.B. Cassell, state AAA executive officer.

Farmers who are eligible for a payment under the 1939 conservation program and who have not filed their applications for payment should do so at once, as March 30 is the closing date, Mr. Cassell says. Applications should be filed in the county Agricultural Conservation office. Delay in filing applications delays the date farmers will receive their checks. Failure to file an application will result in the loss of a payment the farmer would otherwise receive.

March 31 is the final date that farmers w h o have a commercial wheat allotment may dispose of excess acreage and avoid the loss of the 10-cents per bushel price adjustment payment and the 50-cent per bushel penalty that will be imposed on the production from the excess acreage. Commercial growers who exceeded their 1940 allotment by not more than three per cent of the allotment, or three acres, whichever is larger, may dispose of the excess before the final date of March 31 by plowing or discing it. Mr. Cassell suggests that full advantage be taken of favorable weather conditions to dispose of the excess wheat crop in order that farmers may qualify for full conservation payments.

Farmers who wish to participate in the 1940 Agricultural Conservation program should keep April 15 in mind, as that is the final date they may sign the Farm Plan and thereby become eligible to receive conservation payments, Mr. Cassell says. Signing the plan signifies that the farmer desires to participate in the program, but carries no obligation on the farmer's part. The plan is a guide worked out for each farm that points out to the operator the payments he may earn by planting within the acreage of soil-depleting crops allotted to the farm this year. It also recommends urgently needed soil-building practices and shows how carrying out these practices the farmer may meet his soil-building goal and earn the maximum payment.
